

Stacked Units

Garden Units

Bedford Neighborhood, Hill District Pittsburgh, PA • 2004

Contextual facades were designed to face 19 low rise apartment buildings housing 147 apartment units planned by an out of town architectural firm. This development provided housing for many mixed income tenants that included those being displaced by the antiquated public housing that were torn down in the neighborhood.